

SCIENTIST CONFESSES GERM DEATH PLOT

FAIMAN STATEMENT ADMITS CONSPIRACY TO KILL M'CLINTOCK

Furnished Shepherd Typhoid Germs on Promise of Part of Fortune

Chicago, March 17.—A complete statement confessing that he and William D. Shepherd had conspired to kill William Nelson McClintock, "millionaire orphan" whose $1,500,000 estate Shepherd inherited and divide his fortune was made by Dr. Charles Q. Faiman, head of the national university of science, early today.

The statement covered the amazing confession made earlier and repeated in the presence of Shepherd in the state attorney's office, in which details of the alleged sinister plot to kill the youth by inoculation with typhoid germs were revealed.

In terms that shocked even the hardened prosecutors, inured to frank admissions of brutality, the suave bacteriologist declared he and Shepherd plotted a "scientific murder" which, he said, Shepherd assured him would never become known and which would "fix" both of them for the rest of their lives.

"I gave him three test tubes of typhoid bacilli in October, 1923," Faiman said. "After that we met from time to time to discuss the plan. We held many conferences in loop hotels."

"For more than a year nothing happened. Then one day last December I met Shepherd by appointment in the Hotel Morrison and Shepherd said Billy was sick with 'typhoid fever.'"

Faiman said Shepherd added "and I gave him the cathartic as you advised to hasten our cause."

It was explained that cathartics would speed the progress of typhoid in the human body.

Through all the bacteriologist's remarkable accusation, in which he finally even ended in an effort to clear himself, Shepherd sat, dejected looking, in a chair in State's Attorney Crowe's office.

"It's a lie," he succeeded at last in replying, "I never saw this man in my life before. You can hang me if you want to but I am innocent."

Crowe plans to give Faiman a short rest during the day and then bring him before the grand jury, probably late this afternoon.

Faiman was to sign an immunity waiver, but Crowe indicated that if he aids the state at the trial, he may escape prosecution.

Crowe is confident that the McClintock mystery has been solved. He believed another "perfect crime" like the slaying of Bobby Franks by Nathan Leopold, Jr., and Richard A. Loeb, has gone afloat.

MILBURN-DIMMITT CASE NOW REACHES OHIO SUPREME COURT

A motion for an order directing the Greene County Appellate Court to certify its record in the action brought by Calvin Dimmitt against the state of Ohio ex rel Helen Milburn and another, was granted Tuesday by the State Supreme Court.

The controversy involves the $500 bond put up by D. O. Dean and Chas. Carroll for Dimmitt in which the first two are alleged to have agreed to sign over the money in case the illegal parentage suit was won by the Milburn girl.

A Common Pleas Court decision favored Dimmitt but was reversed when attorneys for the girl carried the case to the Appellate Court.

Attorneys for Dimmitt then appealed to the State Supreme Court for favorable action on a motion to certify the records in the case.

The motion was argued last Wednesday at Columbus and the case will now be reviewed and decided on its own merits, attorneys in the case declared Tuesday.

Her condition grew steadily worse and apoplexy was the direct cause of her death.

Mrs. Lawrence's husband preceded her in death a few years. She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Sayre of Alpha and Mrs. Fullerton of Dayton, and one son, Ray Lawrence of Detroit, Mich.

Funeral services will be held at the Sayre residence in Alpha Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock, with interment in Beaver Cemetery.

SARGENT NAMED ATTORNEY GENERAL

Disloyal Officers Block Enforcement

Columbus, O., March 17.—Disposition of officers charged with law enforcement, not to enforce the prohibition law is the greatest obstacle to plans to dry up the state of Ohio State Prohibition Commissioner B. F. McDonald declared today.

Generally conditions are improving, he said.

"The foreign element in our communities plays a great part in present violations of the law, but the greatest obstacle to enforcement of prohibition is the disposition of officers, whose duty it is to enforce the law, not to do it," Commissioner McDonald declared. "This is true, because if officers will do their duty—will enforce prohibition as other laws are enforced—it is an easy law to enforce."

"I don't want to convey the impression that all these officers do not wish to enforce the law," he said.

There have been 14,358 arrests by department officers for dry law violations since McDonald assumed office; 9,030 convictions obtained and finer of $3,023,366 assessed against those convicted, it was reported. Total prohibition law fines imposed in all courts in the state have now passed the $6,000,000 mark, as the state's one half share of these fines was $2,967,558 January 1. Nearly 2,000 persons are now confined in county jails and workhouses for non-payment of such fines, several hundred others have been released to pay fines on the installment plan and 80 have been pardoned by Governor Donahy to relieve crowding in such institutions.

COOLIDGE APPOINTS VERMONT MAN AFTER WARREN SURRENDERS

Rejected Nominee Refuses to Accept Offer of Recess Appointment.

Washington, D. C., March 17.—President Coolidge this afternoon named John G. Sargent, former attorney general of his native state of Vermont, to be attorney general in his cabinet.

Washington, March 17.—Charles B. Warren, retired today from the bitter attorney generalship fight and left President Coolidge free to submit another nominee.

The surrender to the senate, which twice rejected him, did not come however, until Mr. Coolidge had offered him a recess appointment.

The president made the offer and Mr. Warren declined it on the ground that he did not wish to any longer be the bone of contention in the president's acrimonious conflict with the senate.

It is understood that formal announcement of Warren's withdrawal will be made at the White House during the day.

PROMINENT ATTORNEY
John Garibaldi Sargent, who has been practicing law, was born in Ludlow, Vt., Oct. 13, 1860, the son of John Henmon and Ann Eliza (Hanley) Sargent. His marriage to Miss Mary L. Gordon, of Ludlow, took place August 4, 1887.

He was admitted to the Vermont bar in 1890 and was a member of the firm of Stickney, Sargent and Skeels. He was secretary of civil and military affairs of Vermont during 1900-2 and was attorney general of Vermont from 1908-12. He is a Republican, and a member of the Universalist Church.

Sargent is also trustee of the Black River Academy. He is a member of the American Bar Association, the Vermont State Bar Association, the Vermont Historical Society, Zeta Psi (Kappa Chapter), and is also a member of the Renaissance and Ethan Allen Clubs.

He was chairman of the Vermont Commission on Uniform State Laws.

ing the day, together with the announcement of a new appointment.

There were well founded reports that the new nominee will be either John G. Sargent, ex-attorney general of Vermont, a long time friend of the president, or Thomas W. Swan, dean of the law school at Yale.

An exchange of letters between the president and Mr. Warren, in which the President expresses again his complete confidence in the integrity and probity of Mr. Warren, will also be made public later.

Administration leaders at the capitol were notified today that a new nominee would be presented during the day and that this will complete the work of the special session, leaving nothing but adjournment to follow ratification of the President's second choice. If there is any hitch in confirmation of the new appointment, adjournment probably will not take place until tomorrow, although senate leaders said they expected to wind up late this afternoon.

The Republicans held a conference at 11 o'clock, called ostensibly to discuss patronage. Senator Curtis is said to have informed the conference that Warren had declined a recess appointment and that President Coolidge had decided to send to the senate a new nominee for attorney general.

Sensors Curtis and Robinson were named as a committee of two to inform the president that the senate was ready to adjourn. They were to go to the White House shortly after noon.

WANT APPROVAL OF DONAHY FOR OHIO BUILDING AT FAIR

Expect To Appropriate Sum Of $150,000 For Permanent Exposition Property

Columbus, Ohio, March 17.—Backers of the project for erection of a $150,000 Ohio State building at the Philadelphia Sesqui-centennial exposition in 1926 will ask Governor Donahy to approve their project today, according to announcement by Senator Vorys, Franklin County, chairman of the special legislative committee studying the proposal.

Preparation of a bill carrying an appropriation of $100,000, with a special emergency board appointment of an additional $50,000 was completed today. Senator Vorys said it was planned to erect a replica of some famous Ohio historical building on the exposition grounds and make it a permanent Ohio exhibit.

CONFERENCE OF COAL OPERATORS CALLED OFF AT CLEVELAND

Failure of Illinois Bituminous Operators To Send Delegates Kills Meeting

Cleveland, O., March 17.—The conference of coal operators in the central bituminous field, comprising Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and western Pennsylvania, scheduled to be held here today, has been called off, A. A. Augustus, president of the Cambridge Collieries Company, who issued the invitations, announced this morning.

The failure of the conference was laid at the doors of Indiana and Illinois operators who declined to send representatives to the meeting, he stated, and Indiana operators, while sending a delegation here, felt that no good purpose could be served at this time by a conference over the condition of the bituminous coal industry in the central competitive field.

It was pointed out that the Jacksonville agreement, under which mines in the central field and other union coal fields operate, has yet more than a year to run and that the operators' greatest hope of an improvement in present conditions, was based upon the slim chance that the miners would accept a reduced wage scale in order to permit freer competition with the unorganized fields of West Virginia and Kentucky where great inroads have been made into the markets of the central field.

Indiana and Illinois operators were said to feel that there was absolutely no chance of an amicable agreement with the United Mine Workers, providing for a lower wage scale before the expiration of the present contract, April 1, 1926 and in view of this fact, felt that it would be only an empty gesture to meet here to consider conditions.

"There was nothing to do but call off the conference," Augustus told International News Service. "I felt, and still feel that good would have resulted from a frank and free discussion of the problems which confronts us, but with more than half the tonnage represented nothing worth while could have been accomplished."

POLICE COURT FINE FOLLOWS ACCIDENT

A fine of $25 and costs was meted out to Montgomery Little, North West Street, by Judge E. D. Smith, after he had pleaded guilty to a charge of drunk when he was arraigned in Police Court Monday morning.

Little was arrested by Patrolman Fred Jones and Peter Shagin Saturday night as a result of a collision between his machine and a car driven by John Dymond, Washington Street, at Detroit and Third Streets. Little was driving east on Third and Dymond north on Detroit Street.

Dymond smashed into the car without seeing it, according to police who say Little was driving without lights. The occupants of the machines escaped uninjured although both cars were damaged.

FAIRFIELD WILL BE APPRAISED SOON

Appraisal of all real estate in Fairfield will be begun as soon after tax listing, April 13, as possible, County Auditor R. O. Wead has declared. This was decided at a recent conference with representatives of the village.

An appropriation of $900 asked by Auditor Wead to cover expenses attached to the appraisal, has been approved by the board of County Commissioners, he said.

The reason for the delay is that after tax listing day, all property will be listed under the name of the person upon whom taxes will be levied and will accordingly simplify the appraisal.

Poland, its former treasurer, upon a charge of issuing a false financial statement, would be secured in common pleas court here today.

Taking of testimony, it was predicted, would begin tomorrow, after counsel had made their opening statements.

When court convened today, the jury box was tentatively filled but the state still had two challenges as had the defense counsel two each.

Mrs. Katherine Pickles, 23, Dayton, was in Miami Valley Hospital, Dayton, Tuesday, suffering from severe injuries sustained when she was struck by an automobile on the Xenia and Dayton Pike about one mile east of the Montgomery County line Monday night.

A physician's examination disclosed she was suffering from internal injuries. Her condition is serious.

Mrs. Pickles, who was walking along the pike in the direction of Dayton, was struck from behind by a machine driven by Fred M. Gardner, 15 Saunders Court, Dayton, who driving in the same direction. CONTRACT LABOR IS SCORED AFTER PROBE OF WEST VIRGINIA PRISON

Method "Antiquated" Committee Says In Report—Urges Thirty-Two Reforms and Recommendations In Pen System.

Charleston, W. Va., March 17.—A scathing denunciation of contract labor, accompanied by a recommendation that prisoners be put to work on roads and other state projects featured the report to the legislature today by the joint senate and house committee probing conditions at the West Virginia state penitentiary.

The committee was unequivocal in its condemnation of contract labor, strongly urging its discontinuance and attributing to it the strike of prisoners last October.

The report, one of the most voluminous on record, contained thirty-two recommendations growing out of the probe during which the committee, headed by Senator Cecil Highland, Republican of New Martinsville, took more than 1,000 pages of written testimony.

The contract method was described by the committee as "antiquated" and virtually all progressive states have discontinued it because it results in injustices and often in inhumanity, the report stated.

Included in the committee's recommendations were:

Reform in punishments; separation of white and negro prisoners; improvements of conditions in general especially for female prisoners; segregation of prisoners suffering from infectious or contagious maladies; of guards and prison discipline; full time prison chaplain and doctor; revision of powers of judges with respect to paroles and indeterminate sentences.

Passage of laws carrying out its recommendations was urged by the committee which suggested appointment of a recess committee to further investigate the prison and report to the next legislature.

In nearly all cases, punishment of prisoners for violation of prison rules was found reasonable by the committee, which reported that it had unearthed no evidence of inhuman corporal punishment.

Resentment against crowded conditions at the prison was voiced by the committee in a declaration that the 840 cells, each occupied by two prisoners, were too small and "a positive menace to the physical and mental welfare" of inmates. The women's department was found even more congested than the male department, the report said.

Reformation of prisoners and main taining discipline are considerably retarded by permitting co-mingling of white and negro prisoners, while disease-infected inmates cannot very well be segregated under present conditions, the committee reported.

Adequate compensation for prison labor was urged in the report, the committee recommending that out of the gross earnings of each inmate a part be set aside to his credit to be sent relatives in need.

"When a worthy and needy prisoner is discharged, allow him out of such fund a reasonable sum to help him make a new start in life," the committee suggested.

Teaching of trades to prisoners to enable them after their discharge to face the world equipped with a means of earning a livelihood also was strongly recommended.

4 MONTHS AGO WEAK SICKLY OLD MAN—NOW DANCES—SAYS HE WILL WED AGAIN

HOW WEALTHY OLD CLUB MAN GAINED 22 POUNDS NOW EATS LIKE A YOUNGSTER AND FEELS FIT AGAIN

New York, N. Y.—John Marchbanks Evans, a 60-year-old retired business man of this city, who recently paid a large sum of money to medical experts for a new gland treatment, announces his intention to marry again. "I feel 25 years younger," says Mr. Evans.

It was disclosed yesterday that a noted scientist has agreed to offer this discovery of organic glands, phosphates, and iron (known as the Kath treatment) to anyone—poor or rich—who needs its up-building power, at a tiny fraction of the usual cost.

"The Kath gland treatment," says Dr. Joseph Ciaramelli, consulting physician to The Hospital Jesus Marie, of Naples, Italy, "is one of the greatest medical discoveries of the age."

"There are important glands in the body that influence the power of our organs. Age, worry, over-work and excesses of modern life wear out the glands' supply and they dry up, immediately the signs of old age begin to show, and you look and feel all 'dried up' too."

Tests show how Kath quickly helps to put new life in these old glands in many cases. As the gland supply enters the blood you feel stronger, full of life—you want to get out and do all the things in home, social and business life that you did when you were younger. You eat. You sleep. You think clearly—all because of this new gland treatment.

Make This Test:

First weigh yourself and measure yourself. Next taking the tiny tablets of Kath according to directions. Then weigh yourself and measure yourself each week and continue taking Kath until you are satisfied with your gain in weight, appetite and energy. Any druggist will supply Kath without a prescription, and will guarantee results or refund money.

KIPLING NO MIXER

In the American Mercury, Walt McDougall, the cartoonist, relates an occurrence at Lake Champlain in the late 90's. Leaving his hotel one morning McDougall saw a man on the opposite side of the road busying himself with a queer-looking bicycle. McDougall sauntered over and asked, "Isn't that one of those new Vim tires?"

The stranger looked up, scowled and grunted incoherently, then picked up his wheel hastily and carried it across the road. McDougall, amazed, turned to a friend and said, "Did you see that exhibition?" "Sure," said the friend, "Don't you know who that pickled cucumber is?" That's Rudyard Kipling.

A somewhat similar tale is told by a very minor American poet lately returned from abroad. The poet wanted to take his daughter to Sussex to meet Kipling, but two letters asking for an appointment elicited no reply. Finally the American wrote that he was sorry not to have met Kipling, and enclosed a very light though lugubrious verse to the effect that one can still enjoy omelets even if he never meets the hen.

Some commentators on this incident say Kipling was always disliked Americans, and particularly since the war on account of "our procrastination over entering the conflict." Whether that is so or not, the Champlain incident betrays at least a lack of graciousness. But we can't seem to get worked up over the sad case of the poet who wanted to intrude on the time of a distinguished person to give his child a thrill. Probably if Kipling were willing to put himself on show like a curio to casual visitors he would have time for little else. At any rate, we can't imagine what Kipling could possibly have to say to a poet whose idea of a chaste and elegant ode is a masterpiece on the scrambled egg and Rhode Island Red.

DO IT ANYHOW

PRESIDENT COOLIDGE, in signing the deficiency bill which carried with it an increase in pay of representatives and senators, did so because he realized the fact that the law gives the constitutional right to members of congress to fix their own salaries. While to thousands of persons throughout the land a salary of $10,000 a year appears to be a large sum, yet when the expenses of a member of the house, or senate, are taken into consideration, together with the extremely high cost of living in Washington, it will be apparent to everyone that $10,000 a year will not enable any congressman to become wealthy, for the expenses of living in Washington are far higher than they are in many other parts of the United States.

MORE WEALTH, MORE SILK

THE silk worm industry, long a classic occupation of the French, is gradually regaining the ground it lost during the war. The number of people in France engaged in cultivating the silk worm rose from 60,755 in 1923 to 75,168 in 1924, while the volume of eggs produced increased during the same period from 71,341 lots of 25 grammes each to 84,056 lots. In 1913, the year before the war, when fashion everywhere was at a premium, the average selling price of these eggs was 8.59 francs per lot. Last year it was 22.48 francs.

This impressive gain is not without a meaning. It indicates, first, a return to stability upon the part of domestic French industry, and second, a rising demand upon the part of all nations for luxury and style. In the output of such commodities may generally be read the state of confidence and prosperity throughout the world. That the call should be sufficient to warrant, in one year, the additional employment of 15,414 men and women, while the price of their labor rose simultaneously to the highest point on record, constitutes a proof of returning prosperity everywhere.

WINTER

Winter wearied me, and so,
Long I prayed for it to go;
Wished with every dreary blast
When the skies were overcast
That the spring would end its reign
And my roses bud again.
Winter's cold and icy breath
Seemed to me the voice of death.

Black and barren was the spot
Where the meek forget-me-not
Bloomed in summer and the trees
Creaked with every passing breeze,
Not like living things, but more
Like harsh chains upon the floor,
And their branches seemed to swing
Like great keys upon a ring.

All that had belonged to me
Lost forever seemed to be,
Empty was the house wherein
Wrens had made their morning din,
And where roses once had grown
Long I lingered all alone;
Deep beneath the ice and snow
Slept the things I'd treasured so.

Winter stabbed me with its pain,
Mocked my faith and called it vain;
Sneered as envy sometimes sneers,
Draped my tree with frozen tears,
But today the pain has passed
Life grows beautiful at last!
Leaf and blossom now I see
Where I fancied death to be.

ON ARGUING

I could never see much sense in arguing. Opinions are the more easily accepted when you put punch and conviction behind them.

I find that many people have the habit of fighting conviction. For why I know not. Perhaps because it is a human quality.

But I find it splendid to state your conviction and then let it sink its own way in. Honesty needs no defense. And besides it accumulates disciples the longer it is let alone to grow of its own accord.

In accepting the opinions of others without argument, you have the opportunity presented for a very just appraisal. Every statement made may be properly pigeonholed and given a label.

We are educated by the opinions of others only as they melt readily into our own, otherwise it is well that they be lost or forgotten.

But to argue! It's like disputing with God the position of the stars. Things that are not sound sink in to oblivion without any push from any of us. They just naturally drop out and die or evaporate.

I have often witnessed two intelligent human beings argue until each mistrusted the other. And I have said to myself: "What difference does it make anyway? Here are two folks who are besides themselves because of too much arguing, when they might separate after having parted from the rich hoardings of each."

It takes a deep thinking man to keep silent when warm words wing through the air all about him.

I find it a valuable thing to listen and think, and do as little arguing as possible, and I am sure that this is a safe and happy plan for anybody.

FORMER PROFESSOR AT ANTIOCH CALLED BY DEATH TUESDAY

Professor W. W. Weaver, Cleveland, former member of the faculty of Antioch College, Yellow Springs, died Tuesday morning at 1:30 o'clock, in Lakeside Hospital, Cleveland, according to word received by friends. His death followed a stroke of apoplexy suffered last Thursday. Following the sudden attack Professor Weaver was taken to the hospital in a serious condition and became more critical until the end.

Professor and Mrs. Weaver left Yellow Springs for Cleveland, to reside about eight years ago. Both he and Mrs. Weaver had held teaching positions at Antioch and became instructors in Americanization classes in the Young Men's Christian Association, in Cleveland.

Professor Weaver is survived by his widow, three daughters, Miss Juanita Weaver, at home; Mrs. Renée Cooper, of Napoleon, O.; Mrs. C. F. King of Springfield and one son, Professor W. O. Weaver of Delafield, Wisconsin, where he is a member of the St. John's Academy. Members of his family were with Professor Weaver when the end came.

Both Professor and Mrs. Weaver are well known in this city, where they have many friends who will regret to learn of Professor Weaver's death. He was a member of the Methodist Church of Yellow Springs, later transferring his membership to a Cleveland Church.

Funeral arrangements have not been announced.

GASOLINE ENGINE TO AUGMENT POWER AT WATER STATION

An emergency gasoline engine, purchase of which was recently authorized by the city commission, to further protect the power of the City Waterworks, Station No. 1 against an occurrence of electrical trouble will probably be delivered some time next week and installed at once, it was announced Tuesday.

The machine, purchased from a Buffalo concern, is designed to protect the station's power should an electrical disturbance affect the machinery. It can be thrown into use to continue pumping should the motors be put out of service.

Extensions have been made at the plant to accommodate the new engine which will be installed on a special base designed in Dayton. A power generator will also be shipped with the engine.

GIRLS' ORCHESTRA PLAYS AT CHURCH

The First Methodist Episcopal Church was crowded Sunday night, to hear the girls' orchestra of the O. S. & S. O. Home play several special numbers.

Dr. F. W. Stanton, the pastor had invited the orchestra to be present. Prof. Seall, the director in a short talk said the girls had been organized into this orchestra only about two months, but they have made marked progress in their playing, and have appeared but a time or two outside the Home. The large audience greatly enjoyed the playing. Miss Hazel Frost gave a reading.

Dr. J. W. Hawk, assistant editor of Sunday School literature, with headquarters in Cincinnati, delivered an instructive sermon upon the subject, "The Man Whom God Called a Fool." This is the first time Dr. Hawk has appeared in Xenia, but he made a favorable impression. His message was practical and presented in a unique manner. He dwelt upon the parable of the rich man who, after tearing down his old barns and building larger, said, "Soul, thou hast much goods laid up for many years; take this ease, eat, drink and be merry." But God said, "Thou fool! Dr. Hawk stated that the man was not called a fool because he had raised a big crop, or better crop than the year before, but because he was planning to spend it all on himself.

park project on drive day were discussed. The students plan to help the association in a small way financially and spread propaganda during the week.

The Rev. W. H. Tilford addressed a meeting of students of the high school at the school auditorium Tuesday morning in which he made a strong plea to get back of the plan even in a small way. Committees were appointed of three members of each class to work out ways to help in the campaign.

Final reports made by the workers at the Monday night meeting indicated the public sentiment was strongly in favor of the proposal, meaning that Xenia stands an excellent chance of obtaining a community park.

Attorney J. K. Williamson, together with several members of the association will go to Tippicanoe City, Tuesday night to assist that city in boosting a proposal for a new civic park there. A drive will be conducted at Tippicanoe City this week it is understood similar to that which will be staged here Thursday. Attorney Williamson will make an address at a community meeting Tuesday evening there.

While it is not expected a name will be chosen for the park until its success is assured and the dedication is planned, speakers Monday night touched on this subject. Some of the workers favor an Indian name for the park while others suggest that the name "Xenia" will help it to become known as a community institution.

Saved from Operation

Toledo, Ohio—"Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription not only saved me from an operation, but also relieved me of all weakness and made me well and strong. I had given up hopes of ever getting better. When I reached middle life I went all to pieces, my nerves gave way. I suffered from backache and other pains. I got so weak and nervous that I had no power or strength left. My druggist advised me to take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and I began to feel better by the time I had taken one bottle. I think I took about seven bottles and was completely restored to health, in every way. I can recommend Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription to women of middle age after what it has done for me."—Mrs. Mary Lambert, 422 Tenth St.

TO JOIN FRATS

Athens, March 17—Townpeople have been getting a lot of laughs out of the Greek letter fraternity season initiation which is now in full swing at Ohio University here. As one frat house all the initiates were kept under a front porch for one whole night and forced to back like dogs through the lattice work at every one who passed by. Another youngster signalled every fifteen minutes on a loud can with drum sticks for a day.

MODISH MITZI—What An Ungrateful World!

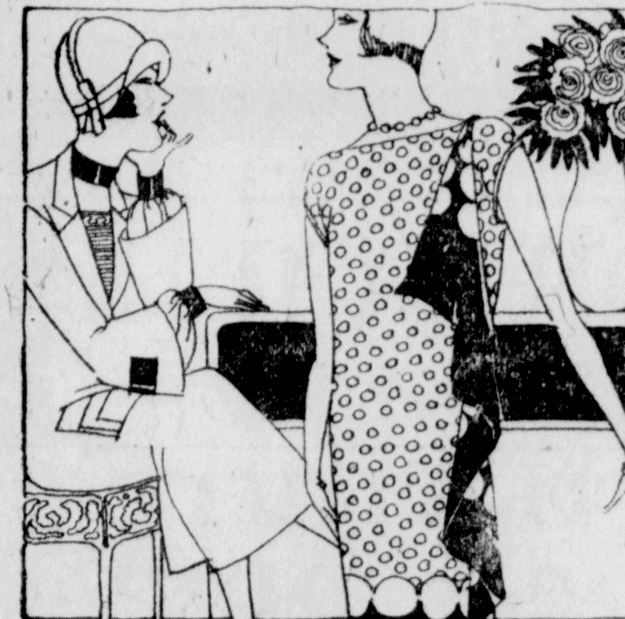

By JAY V. JAY

Mitzi hands it to herself that this is one of the neatest pieces of fashion news she has seen this season. It is a dress of kashella cloth with a dog collar and cuffs of gold kid. Leather trimmings are very popular this season.

She thinks Polly would appreciate it and goes to see her. But Polly has interests of her own. She insists upon showing Mitzi her own new dress of hand painted crepe de chine and Mitzi is entirely disgusted with the selfishness of one's friends.

Adelaide is no better. Adelaide has discovered that dotted crepe is a new material and quite fancies herself in this dress of navy dotted in white. She only murmurs: "Oh yes," when Mitzi tries to show her own frock. Mitzi is polite—

After all, one's own family is most appreciative. Mitzi has put on her new evening gown of crepe georgette in pervenche blue. Dad likes it. All the world may be harsh, but Dad will appreciate her new clothes. Dad likes to get his money's worth!

PHILLIES PLAYING THEIR HEADS OFF FOR ART FLETCHER

By DAVIS J. WALSH
Sarasota, Fla., March 17.—Once upon a time there was a group of worthy but altogether mediocre young men who suddenly recognized the fact that the manager had been born white, didn't spill egg on his vest and habitually washed behind the ears. They deemed him a gentleman and a scholar, went out of their earnest way to please him and lived happily ever after.

This is not a bedtime story. It is the story of the poor but honest Phillies, as outlined to the writer. The story of an almost hopelessly inefficient ball club that fairly bristles with hope from Arthur Fletcher, the clean-shaven manager, right on down to Heine Sand, the shortstop, who didn't realize there was a lot of kidding going around and insisted that bearing down was one of the things that was being done these days.

"I never saw anything like it," said Fletcher, referring to the boys' ambition, not the prevalent bearing down. "That is, outside of a college ball team. These fellows are simply working their heads off and the chatter during a workout sounds like the bally-hoo man on the midway at Coney Island."

"The Phils, in short, may be going nowhere in particular, but they decline to do it quietly."

Sand by the way is one of comparatively few 1924 reliefs who figures to hold his job. Nelson "Chicken" Hawks, once a Yankee and later of Nashville, has replaced Holke at first base. Walter Kimmick, ex-Red, has moved right into second base from the Vernon coast league club. A young man, C. B. Huber by name and gifted by nature, will play third. He is up with the Phils from Beaumont and Fletcher says he will stay. Nothing personal behind this threat.

Mr. Fletcher really likes the young man. However, he is much more enamoured of Kimmick, who couldn't hit the size of his neckband with the Reds.

"He's the sweetest looking infielder, I've seen in a long time," said Fletcher. "He seems to be able to do anything at second base and I'll venture to say his hitting has improved fifty per cent. He stands up there like Hornsby now."

There are plenty of outfielders and some of them are good.

Williams will adorn centerfield, leaving Harper, Mikan, Schultz and George Burns, the elder to debate the remaining places. Fletcher alleges Burns to look better than at any time since 1922. He could at that.

The Phillies also have many pitchers—so-called. Best of the lot are Jimmy Ring, Wilbur Hubbell, Hal Carlson, Clarence Mitchell, Walter Betts and John Couch, veterans and Danna Fillingim, back again from Beaumont.

"Butch" Henline and Jimmy Wilson will do the catching. Both are good, which makes them something of a novelty hereabouts.

Bowling

The race for first honors in the bowling league tightened up as a result of the Arcade's unexpected loss of three straight games to the third place American Restaurant team Monday night. The league leaders had held a commanding lead until Monday and with a lead of four full games were considered practically "in."

Aside from the three losses, the sensational bowling of Ray Cox, lead-off man for the Arcade, was the outstanding feature of the match. Cox had a three game total of 627. Box score:

Lafferty, Mar. 17.—Dry enforcement officers became firemen during a raid on a house here when a woman hurled a bottle of moon shine onto a stove. The booze ignited and the flames spread to the woodwork in the room. The raiding officials, aided by neighbors, saved the home. Joe Scallet was freed on bond pending hearing on a charge of violating a dry law. His arrest was due to the raid.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. These little olive-colored tablets are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel.

The pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel. Let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Headaches, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "lgy" and "heavy." They "clear" clouded brain and "perk up" the spirits. 15c and 30c.

Coughs Always Dangerous—Quick Way to Stop Them

Chronic coughs and chest colds often lead to more serious trouble. Not only is the infection itself dangerous, but the continual coughing spells day and night so weaken your entire system that you can no longer fight off disease.

So stop a cough the quickest way you can. To do this there is nothing better than that old-time tried and proved remedy—Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey. Doctors say there is nothing like pine-tar extract to quickly loosen and remove the phlegm and congestion which are the direct cause of the cough, while the honey both gives a pleasant taste and helps soothe irritation.

The quick relief to the stubbornest cough often seems almost magical.

But be sure you get the genuine Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey, and no substitute. Dr. Bell's is the original pine-tar honey and has been known for over a quarter of a century as the best. It is scientifically compounded of just the right proportions of pine-tar, honey and other quick-acting, healing ingredients which the best doctors have found to aid in quick relief. Contains no opiates or other harmful drugs, so can be given even to young children—time for spasmodic cough. If you want the best, a medicine that often relieves the severest cough overnight, make sure you get Dr. Bell's. Only 50c at any good druggist.

OFFICERS NAMED BY CREAMERY OWNERS

Announcement is made by the Ohio Association of Creamery Owners that C. E. Stratton of Troy and J. O. Winters of Greenville have again been chosen chairman and vice-chairman of the district composed of Clark, Preble, Greene, Miami, Darke, Champaign and Montgomery counties. The price of butter has been from 8 to 10 cents lower all winter than it was a year ago, but within the last ten days the price has increased due to a shortage of production in the West, a result of weather conditions, and a decrease in storage holdings, the association says.

The average price last week on the Chicago market, on which Ohio prices are based, was 48 1-2 cents compared with 46 1-2 cents a year ago.

One Wife on Approval by VIOLET DARE

WHO'S WHO AND WHAT'S HAPPENED

CYNTHIA LELAND'S husband, Jim, has gone to Honolulu shortly after their marriage, following a misunderstanding with his wife, and has taken his mother with him, leaving Cynthia to face the disapproval of her sister-in-law, LOUELLA, and all her world. Cynthia turns to

CECILE MALCOLM, leader of the town's gayest set, and accepts the friendship of NOEL GARDNER, the town's black sheep, going with them to a mid-winter house party at Cecile's mountain cabin.

TODAY'S INSTALMENT

XXXIX—OUTLAWED

THAT evening Cynthia cabled Jim.

"Most important to know when you return," she said in her message. She signed her name and left the office with a little sigh of bewilderment. What would happen when Jim did come back? It was a question that she could not drive from her thoughts, and could not answer.

VIOLET DARE

She had refused to see Noel that evening. Although she did not realize how people were talking about them, she knew that much gossip must be going the rounds, and she had no intention of making it grow in volume.

But the next afternoon, as she was on her way to order some books, she met Gardner, and he promptly turned about and accompanied her.

"I've got good news for you," he announced. "Couldn't tell it over the phone, so I was just going to drop in and tell you. It's about that sub-division of mine. The sale of it is going through—which means that you're going to make a very nice profit on the money you invested in stock. Now, doesn't that make you happier?"

"Yes, of course, it does," exclaimed Cynthia. Noel had been so good to her she couldn't help rejoicing that he was to profit instead of losing everything he had. For her own sake she could not feel particularly enthusiastic; until her other affairs were in better shape a mere matter of money would mean little.

They walked on, Noel talking enthusiastically, Cynthia listening, making no comment unless it was absolutely necessary.

He hardly saw Louella when they met her as she was leaving her bank. Cynthia flushed as she met her sister-in-law's eyes. Louella, holding her head a trifle higher, hastily entered her car, which was waiting at the curb.

For a moment it was all that Cynthia could do to keep back the tears. She had never cared enough for her sister-in-law to care what Louella thought of her. But she resented being judged by anyone as Louella had judged her.

"I've given her no reason—she's condemning me for nothing at all!" Cynthia told herself bitterly. Was she to be blamed for the things that had happened to her? How had it been her fault? From the first Jim's family had disapproved of her because she could not find it in her heart to adopt their standards and pleasures.

Yet could she turn her back on the world that they represented and go on, knowing that they would always look down on her? Even though she lived on the opposite side of the world, wouldn't she be uncomfortable because she knew that they condemned her, that if ever her name was mentioned someone would say: "Oh, yes, she was that girl Jim Leland married—the wrong kind, wasn't she?" she told herself bitterly. Yet she knew that she would always care, no matter how hard she tried not to.

Noel was talking on, planning for the future that they would share. She murmured the proper words at the proper intervals, when he seemed to expect her to, but hardly knew what she was saying.

At last he turned to him abruptly, interrupting him in the middle of a sentence.

"I can't stand it just to wait till Jim comes back to know what's going to happen," she exclaimed. "I want to go home and write to him this minute. I'll send the letter to the steamship office in San Francisco, so that it will be delivered to him as soon as the ship gets in. Then if he doesn't want to see me at all he can wire me. I've got to do something, Noel. I can't just wait."

"All right—I'll take you home at once," he answered. "There's a taxi—let's take it."

Looking down at her as they sat

"I've got good news for you."

In the cab, Noel felt sorrier for Cynthia than he ever had for anyone else. She was such a child, so helpless in the grasp of circumstances. Jim Leland should have known when he first looked at her that she was not the stuff of which society matrons are made, Noel told himself vehemently. She was the sort of girl who wanted to be a companion to her husband, not a figurehead for his home. Well, everything would be changed now! She would get a divorce and become Mrs. Noel Gardner, and he'd take her abroad to live. She was going to have everything now.

Cynthia, staring out of the window, was thinking very different thoughts. She was wondering if it wouldn't be possible for her to withdraw from the tangle into which she had been thrown by events which she had not willingly controlled.

She could disappear, she told herself. When she wrote to Jim telling him her side of the story she could also tell him good-bye. Surely that would be the simplest thing to do, to slip away quietly, and let matters take their own course. She could not feel that she wanted to be freed from Jim and turn at once to Noel Gardner. In fact, she could not be at all sure now of her love for Noel that had seemed so overwhelming the day before.

Tomorrow—Cynthia Talks.

SCIENTIST CONFESSES GERM DEATH PLOT

FAIMAN STATEMENT ADMITS CONSPIRACY TO KILL M'CLINTOCK

Furnished Shepherd Typhoid Germs on Promise of Part of Fortune

Chicago, March 17.—A complete statement confessing that he and William D. Shepherd had conspired to kill William Nelson McClintock, "millionaire orphan" whose $1,500,000 estate Shepherd inherited and divide his fortune was made by Dr. Charles O. Faiman, head of the national university of science, early today.

The statement covered the amazing confession made earlier and repeated in the presence of Shepherd in the state attorney's office, in which details of the alleged sinister plot to kill the youth by inoculation with typhoid germs were revealed.

In terms that shocked even the hardened prosecutors, inured to frank admissions of brutality, the suave bacteriologist declared he and Shepherd plotted a "scientific murder" which, he said, Shepherd assured him would never become known and which would "fix" both of them for the rest of their lives.

"I gave him three test tubes of typhoid bacilli in October, 1923," Faiman said. "After that we met from time to time to discuss the plan. We held many conferences in loop hotels. For more than a year nothing happened. Then one day last December I met Shepherd by appointment in the Hotel Morrison and Shepherd said Billy was sick with 'typhoid fever.'"

Faiman said Shepherd added "and I gave him the cathartic as you advised to hasten our cause."

It was explained that cathartics would speed the progress of typhoid in the human body.

Through all the bacteriologist's remarkable accusation, in which he finally even ended in an effort to clear himself, Shepherd sat, dejected looking, in a chair in State's Attorney Crowe's office.

"It's a lie," he succeeded at last in replying. "I never saw this man in my life before. You can hang me if you want to but I am innocent."

Crowe plans to give Faiman a short rest during the day and then bring him before the grand jury, probably late this afternoon.

Faiman was to sign an immunity waiver, but Crowe indicated that if he aids the state at the trial, he may escape prosecution.

Crowe is confident that the McClintock mystery has been solved. He believed another "perfect crime" like the slaying of Bobby Franks by Nathan Leopold, Jr., and Richard A. Loeb, has gone awful.

MILBURN-DIMMITT CASE NOW REACHES OHIO SUPREME COURT

A motion for an order directing the Greene County Appellate Court to certify its record in the action brought by Calvin Dimmitt against the state of Ohio ex rel Helen Milburn and another, was granted Tuesday by the State Supreme Court.

The controversy involves the $500 bond put up by D. O. Dean and Chas. Carroll for Dimmitt in which the first two are alleged to have agreed to sign over the money in case the illegal parentage suit was won by the Milburn girl.

A Common Pleas Court decision favored Dimmitt but was reversed when attorneys for the girl carried the case to the Appellate Court.

Attorneys for Dimmitt then appealed to the State Supreme Court for favorable action on a motion to certify the records in the case.

The motion was argued last Wednesday at Columbus and the case will now be reviewed and decided on its own merits, attorneys in the case declared Tuesday.

RESIDENT OF ALPHA SUCCUMBS TUESDAY

Mrs. Virginia Belle Lawrence, 62, passed away at the home of her daughter, Mrs. W. R. Says, at Alpha Tuesday morning at 6 o'clock. Mrs. Lawrence had been ill during the winter with pneumonia and had recovered and was able to be downstairs when she suffered a stroke of apoplexy last week.

Her condition grew steadily worse and apoplexy was the direct cause of her death.

Mrs. Lawrence's husband preceded her in death a few years. She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Says of Alpha and Mrs. Fullerton of Dayton, and one son, Ray Lawrence of Detroit, Mich.

Funeral services will be held at the Sayre residence in Alpha Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock, with interment in Beaver Cemetery.

SARGENT NAMED ATTORNEY GENERAL

Disloyal Officers Block Enforcement

Columbus, O., March 17.—Disposition of officers charged with law enforcement, not to enforce the prohibition law is the greatest obstacle to plans to dry up the state of Ohio State Prohibition Commissioner B. F. McDonald declared today.

Generally conditions are improving, he said.

"The foreign element in our communities plays a great part in present violations of the law, but the greatest obstacle to enforcement ment of prohibition is the disposition of officers, whose duty it is to enforce the law, not to do it," Commissioner McDonald declared. "This is true, because if officers will do their duty—will enforce prohibition as other laws are enforced—it is an easy law to enforce."

"I don't want to convey the impression that all these officers do not wish to enforce the law," he said.

There have been 14,358 arrests by department officers for dry law violations since McDonald assumed office; 9,030 convictions obtained and fines of $3,023,356 assessed against those convicted, it was reported. Total prohibition law fines imposed in all courts in the state have now passed the $6,000,000 mark, as the state's one-half share of these fines was $2,967,558 January 1. Nearly 2,000 persons are now confined in county jails and workhouses for non-payment of such fines, several hundred others have been released to pay fines on the installment plan and 80 have been pardoned by Governor Donahey to relieve crowding in such institutions.

COOLIDGE APPOINTS VERMONT MAN AFTER WARREN SURRENDERS

Rejected Nominee Refuses to Accept Offer of Recess Appointment.

Washington, D. C., March 17.—President Coolidge this afternoon named John G. Sargent, former attorney general of his native state of Vermont, to be attorney general in his cabinet.

Washington, March 17.—Charles B. Warren, retired today from the bitter attorney generalship fight and left President Coolidge free to submit another nominee.

The surrender to the senate, which twice rejected him, did not come however, until Mr. Coolidge had offered him a recess appointment.

The president made the offer and Mr. Warren declined it on the ground that he did not wish to any longer be the bone of contention in the president's acrimonious conflict with the senate.

It is understood that formal announcement of Warren's withdrawal will be made at the White House during the day.

PROMINENT ATTORNEY
John Garibaldi Sargent, who has been practicing law, was born in Ludlow, Vt., Oct. 13, 1860, the son of John Henmon and Ann Eliza (Hanley) Sargent. His marriage to Miss Mary L. Gordon, of Ludlow, took place August 4, 1887.

He was admitted to the Vermont bar in 1890 and was a member of the firm of Stickney, Sargent and Skeels. He was secretary of civil and military affairs of Vermont during 1900-2 and was attorney general of Vermont from 1908-12. He is a Republican, and a member of the Universalist Church.

Sargent is also trustee of the Black River Academy. He is a member of the American Bar Association, Windsor County Bar Association, the Vermont Historical Society, Zeta Psi (Kappa Chapter) and is also a member of the Rendezvous and Ethan Allen Clubs. He was chairman of the Vermont Commission on Uniform State Laws.

ing the day together with the announcement of a new appointment.

There were well founded reports that the new nominee will be either John G. Sargent, ex-attorney general of Vermont, a long time friend of the president, or Thomas W. Swan, dean of the law school at Yale.

An exchange of letters between the president and Mr. Warren, in which the president expresses again his complete confidence in the integrity and probity of Mr. Warren, will also be made public later.

Administration leaders at the capitol were notified today that a new nominee would be presented during the day and that this will complete the work of the special session, leaving nothing but adjournment to follow ratification of the President's second choice. If there is any hitch in confirmation of the new appointment, adjournment probably will not take place until tomorrow, although senate leaders said they expected to wind up late this afternoon.

The Republicans held a conference at 11 o'clock, called ostensibly to discuss patronage. Senator Curtis is said to have informed the conference that Warren had declined a recess appointment and that President Coolidge had decided to send to the senate a new nominee for attorney general.

Sensors Curtis and Robinson were named as a committee of two to inform the president that the senate was ready to adjourn. They were to go to the White House shortly after noon.

WANT APPROVAL OF DONAHEY FOR OHIO BUILDING AT FAIR

Expect To Appropriation Sum Of $150,000 For Permanent Exposition Property

Columbus, Ohio, March 17.—Backers of the project for erection of a $150,000 Ohio State building at the Philadelphia Sesqui-centennial exposition in 1926 will ask Governor Donahey to approve their project today, according to announcement by Senator Vorys, Franklin County, chairman of the special legislative committee studying the proposal.

Preparation of a bill carrying an appropriation of $100,000, with a special emergency board appointment of an additional $50,000 was completed today. Senator Vorys said it was planned to erect a replica of some famous Ohio historical building on the exposition grounds and make it a permanent Ohio exhibit.

FIND WATER SUPPLY ON GRAFTON SITE

Columbus, March 17.—Backers of the plan to locate the state's new institutions for feeble-minded at Grafton farm, near Elyria, believed today the last obstacle to the project had been overcome with the discovery of what is thought to be an adequate supply of water on the 1100 acre site.

Final report is expected late this week when pumping will be started.

CONFERENCE OF COAL OPERATORS CALLED OFF AT CLEVELAND

Failure of Illinois Bituminous Operators To Send Delegates Kills Meeting

Cleveland, O., March 17.—The conference of coal operators in the central bituminous field, comprising Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and western Pennsylvania, scheduled to be held here today, has been called off. A. A. Augustus, president of the Cambridge Collieries Company, who issued the invitations, announced this morning. The failure of the conference was laid at the doors of Indiana and Illinois operators by Augustus. Illinois operators declined to send representatives to the meeting, he stated, and Indiana operators, while sending a delegation here, felt that no good purpose could be served at this time by a conference over the condition of the bituminous coal industry in the central competitive field.

It was pointed out that the Jacksonville agreement, under which mines in the central field and other union coal fields operate, has yet more than a year to run and that the operators' greatest hope of an improvement in present conditions, was based upon the slim chance that the miners would accept a reduced wage scale in order to permit freer competition with the unorganized fields of West Virginia and Kentucky where great inroads have been made into the markets of the central field.

Indiana and Illinois operators were said to feel that there was absolutely no chance of an amicable agreement with the United Mine Workers, providing for a lower wage scale before the expiration of the present contract, April 1, 1926 and in view of this fact, felt that it would be only an empty gesture to meet here to consider conditions.

"There was nothing to do but call off the conference," Augustus told International News Service, "I felt, and still feel that good would have resulted from a frank and free discussion of the problems which confronts us, but with more than half the tonnage represented nothing worth while could have been accomplished."

POLICE COURT FINE FOLLOWS ACCIDENT

A fine of $25 and costs was meted out to Montgomery Little, North West Street, by Judge E. D. Smith, after he had pleaded guilty to a charge of drunk when he was arrested in Police Court Monday morning.

Little was arrested by Patrolman Fred Jones and Peter Shagin Saturday night as a result of a collision between his machine and a car driven by John Dymond, Washington Street, at Detroit and Third Streets. Little was driving east on Third and Dymond north on Detroit Street.

Dymond smashed into the car without seeing it, according to police who say Little was driving without lights. The occupants of the machines escaped uninjured although both cars were damaged.

FAIRFIELD WILL BE APPRAISED SOON

Appraisal of all real estate in Fairfield will be begun as soon after tax listing, April 13, as possible, County Auditor R. O. Wead has declared. This was decided at a recent conference with representatives of the village.

An appropriation of $900 asked by Auditor Wead to cover expenses attached to the appraisal, has been approved by the board of County Commissioners, he said.

The reason for the delay is that after tax listing day, all property will be listed under the name of the person upon whom taxes will be levied and will accordingly simplify the appraisal.

4 MONTHS AGO WEAK SICKLY OLD MAN—NOW DANCES—SAYS HE WILL WED AGAIN

HOW WEALTHY OLD CLUB MAN GAINED 22 POUNDS NOW EATS LIKE A YOUNGSTER AND FEELS FIT AGAIN

New York, N. Y.—John Marchbanks Evans, a 60-year-old retired business man of this city, who recently paid a large sum of money to medical experts for a new gland treatment, announces his intention to marry again. "I feel 25 years younger," says Mr. Evans.

It was disclosed yesterday that a noted scientist has agreed to offer this discovery of organic glands, phosphates, and iron (known as the Kath treatment) to anyone—poor or rich—who needs its up-building power, at a tiny fraction of the usual cost.

"The Kath gland treatment," says Dr. Joseph Ciaramelli, consulting physician to The Hospital Jesus Marie, of Naples, Italy, "is one of the greatest medical discoveries of the age."

"There are important glands in the body that influence the power of our organs. Age, worry, over-work and excesses of modern life wear out the glands' supply and they dry up. Immediately the signs of old age begin to show, and you look and feel all 'dried up' too."

Tests show how Kath quickly helps to put new life in these old glands in many cases. As the gland supply enters the blood you feel stronger, full of life—you want to get out and do all the things in home, social and business life that you did when you were younger. You eat. You sleep. You think clearly—all because of this new gland treatment.

Make This Test: First weigh yourself and measure yourself. Next start taking the tiny tablets of Kath according to directions. Then weigh yourself and measure yourself each week and continue taking Kath until you are satisfied with your gain in weight, appetite and energy. Any druggist will supply Kath without a prescription, and will guarantee results or refund money.

PHILLIES PLAYING THEIR HEADS OFF FOR ART FLETCHER

By DAVIS J. WALSH
Sarasota, Fla., March 17.—Once upon a time there was a group of worthy but altogether mediocre young men who suddenly recognized the fact that their manager had been born white, didn't spill egg on his vest and habitually washed behind the ears. They deemed him a gentleman and a scholar, went out of their earnest way to please him and lived happily ever after.

This is not a bedtime story. It is the story of the poor but honest Phillies, as outlined by the writer. The story of an almost hopelessly inefficient ball club that fairly bristles with hope from Arthur Fletcher, the clean-cut manager, right on down to Heinie Sand, the shortstop who didn't realize there was a lot of kidding going around and insisted that bearing down was one of the things that was being done these days.

"I never saw anything like it," said Fletcher, referring to the boys' ambition, not the prevalent bearing down. "That is, outside of a college ball team. These fellows are simply working their heads off and the chatter during a workout sounds like the bally-hoo man on the midway at Coney Island."

"The Phils, in short, may be going nowhere in particular, but they decline to do it quietly."

Sand by the way is one of comparatively few 1924 relics who figures to hold his job. Nelson "Chicken" Hawks, once a Yankee and later of Nashville, has replaced Holke at first base. Walter Kimmick, ex-Red, has moved right into second base from the Vernon coast league club. A young man, C. B. Huber by name and gifted by nature, will play third. He is up with the Phils from Beaumont and Fletcher says he will stay. Nothing personal behind this threat.

Mr. Fletcher really likes the young man. However, he is much more enamored of Kimmick, who couldn't hit the size of his neckband with the Reds.

"He's the sweetest looking infielder I've seen in a long time," said Fletcher. "He seems to be able to do anything at second base and I'll venture to say his hitting has improved fifty per cent. He stands up there like Hornsby now."

There are plenty of outfielders and some of them are good.

Williams will adorn centerfield, leaving Harper, Mekan, Schultz and George Burns, the elder to debate the remaining places. Fletcher alleges Burns to look better than at any time since 1922. He could at that.

The Phillies also have many pitchers—so-called. Best of the lot are Jimmy Ring, Wilbur Hubbell, Hal Carlson, Clarence Mitchell, Walter Betts and John Couch, veterans and Danna Fillingim, back again from Beaumont.

"Butch" Henline and Jimmy Wilson will do the catching. Both are good, which makes them something of a novelty hereabouts.

Bowling

The race for first honors in the bowling league tightened up as a result of the Arcade's unexpected loss of three straight games to the third place American Restaurant team Monday night. The league leaders had held a commanding lead until Monday and with a lead of four full games were considered practically "in."

Aside from the three losses, the sensational bowling of Ray Cox, lead-off man for the Arcade, was the outstanding feature of the match. Cox had a three game total of 627. Box score:

DRY FIREMEN

Lafferty, Mar. 17.—Dry enforcement officers became firemen during a raid on a house here when a woman hurled a bottle of moonshine onto a stove. The booze ignited and the flames spread to the woodwork in the room. The raiding officials, aided by neighbors, saved the home. Joe Scallet was freed on bond pending hearing on a charge of violating a dry law. His arrest was due to the raid.

Such popularity must be deserved

THE "man-in-the-street," the "man-in-the-limousine"—men in all walks of life, laugh with Bud Fisher. He draws more smiles, perhaps, than any other cartoonist in America. Depend upon it, the public recognizes the real thing—whether it's cartoons or cigarettes. Witness the sustained popularity of Chesterfield cigarettes. Here again men have found the real thing, in better tobaccos, and in richer, milder, more satisfying taste.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. These little olive-colored tablets are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel.

The pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel. Let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Headaches, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "lory" and "heavy." They "clear" clouded brain and "perk up" the spirits. 15c and 30c.

Coughs Always Dangerous—Quick Way to Stop Them

Chronic coughs and chest colds often lead to more serious trouble. Not only is the infection itself dangerous, but the continual coughing spells day and night so weaken your entire system that you can no longer fight off disease.

So stop a cough the quickest way you can. To do this there is nothing better than that old-time tried and proved remedy—Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey. Doctors say there is nothing like pine-tar extract to quickly loosen and remove the phlegm and congestion which are the direct cause of the cough, while the honey both gives a pleasant taste and helps soothe irritation. The quick relief to the stubborn cough often seems almost magical.

But be sure you get the genuine Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey, and no substitute. Dr. Bell's is the original pine-tar honey and has been known for over a quarter of a century as the best. It is scientifically compounded of just the right proportions of pine-tar, honey and other quick-acting, healing ingredients which the best doctors have found to aid in quick relief. Contains no opiates or other harmful drugs; so can be given even to young children—fine for spasmodic croup. If you want the best, a medicine that often relieves the severest cough overnight, make sure you get Dr. Bell's. Only 50c at any good druggist.
